

SchreibART Online: dezbateri literare austriece în traducerea studenților români - Erwin Einzinger/„Mistrețul: arabescuri“

Interview with Erwin Einzinger / Cultural Forum Bucharest

Timisoara students translate SchreibART video

The series of Romanian translations of the "SchreibART online" talks, which the Cultural Forum Bucharest is preparing with German studies students from several universities of the country, is continued with Erwin Einzinger's talk about the novel "The Wild Boar: Arabesques": students of the II. year of the Master's program "German in the European context – interdisciplinary and multicultural studies" at the Faculty of Humanities, History and Theology of the Western University of Timisoara, under the guidance of Associate Dean Karla Lupșan, have taken up the challenge of translating the expositions of an unconventional, Upper Austrian narrator. Indeed, Erwin Einzinger surprises his readership in the novel "The Wild Boar: Arabesques," which was the main subject of the SchreibART online conversation, with wild leaps of thought from one narrative image to another. The interview with Romanian subtitles will be streamed on the homepage of Cultural Forum Bucharest from July 2.
